

JLG Forklift Part

JLG Forklift Part - In the late 1960's John L. Grove, with his wife Cora set out on a cross country voyage in their RV. Recently retired, after spending numerous years working with his brother to manufacture their crane company into an market leader, John had no idea that fateful trip would allow JLG Industries, Inc to emerge. The world leader of mobile aerial work platforms and precision material handling technologies was the end consequence of a road trip.

During their trip, John reacquainted himself with previous business acquaintances along the way. In combination with these conversations and a significant event; two workers were unfortunately electrocuted on scaffolding when the Groves were passing through the Hoover Dam. John discovered an infinite marketplace for a product that could quickly and securely elevate people in the air to accomplish maintenance and other building services.

Following their return from holiday, John set up a joint venture with two of his friends and purchased a metal fabricating business in McConnellsburg, Pennsylvania. Starting with a small crew of twenty employees, they fashioned and sold their first JLG aerial work platform in 1970. The company incorporates many of the simple design elements of that original lift into current designs.

JLG lift trucks have come a ways from the time when Mr. John L. Grove came back to town from his cross-country road trip and since the first aerial work platform debuted on the market. At present, the company proudly continues to expand itself into many markets worldwide and develops new products to ensure customers are capable of being more efficient and perform in the workplace within a safer environment.
